

Alan Walter

Always a fighter

Alan died suddenly on Saturday 7th March.

To anyone who knew Alan, it would come as no surprise to learn he died late at night working on his computer on the latest stage of the Defend Council Housing campaign.

He was a fighter, a friend and a father.
He hated injustice and he loved life.

A trade unionist, a campaigner against racism, a Socialist Workers Party member, he inspired people to stand up for their rights.

He should have lived longer and will be missed by many people.

COME AND REMEMBER HIS LIFE

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Monday 16th March

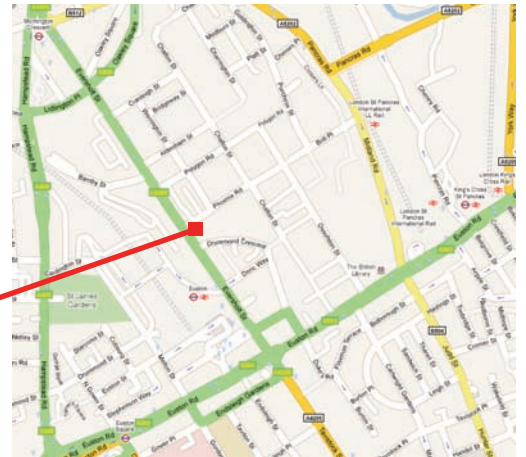

6.30pm

St Aloysius Social Club

Phoenix Road, London NW1 1TA

ALL WELCOME

Venue is on the corner of Phoenix Road and Eversholt Street

- A small family funeral will be held earlier in the day.
- Messages to info@defendcouncilhousing.org.uk or 42 Arborfield, Islip St, London NW5 2UD.
- Donations to 'Socialist Worker Appeal' or 'Defend Council Housing' to the above address.